

Acknowledgements

Voices for Illinois Children dedicates this report to all the people who make an impact on the lives of children, including parents, teachers, friends, family members, volunteers, advocates—and all who help children cross the bridge to adulthood through examples of caring, patience, creativity and humor.

“Illinois Kids Count 2005: Twelve Ways to Improve Learning” was funded by the Annie E. Casey Foundation. We thank them for their support but acknowledge that the findings and conclusions presented in this report are those of Voices for Illinois Children alone and do not necessarily reflect the opinions of these foundations.

This report was written by Illinois Kids Count project director Julie Parente. We would like to thank Governor Rod Blagojevich, Dr. Gene Amberg of Urbana School District 116, Robyn Gabel of the Illinois Maternal and Child Health Coalition, Dr. Suellen Girard of Havana Community Unit School District 126, Tracy Johnson of the Martin Luther King Jr. Community Services of Illinois, Kevin Limbeck of Family Focus, Dr. Matt Longjohn of the Consortium to Lower Obesity in Chicago Children, Claudia Quigg of Baby TALK, Nancy Ronquillo of Children’s Home & Aid Society of Illinois, Dr. Stephen E. Saunders of the Illinois Department of Human Services, Anne Shannon of Aspire, Barbara Shaw of the Illinois Children’s Mental Health Partnership and Harrison Steans of Financial Investments Corp. for contributing articles. We also would like to thank the entire Voices staff and the Illinois Kids Count Advisory Committee for their guidance and input.

We would like to acknowledge the following people who helped us collect the data on the status of Illinois children and without whom this report would not be possible: Shuwan Chiu and Kalpana Desai at the Illinois State Board of Education; Judith Deane at the Administration for Children and Families, Head Start Branch; Sue Gansky at the Illinois Department of Public Aid; Barbara Gaynor and Gary Terpstra at the Illinois Department of Human Services; Terri Gorsek, Gary Morgan and Helen Schmidt at the Illinois Department of Public Health; Jennifer Parker at the Illinois Network of Child Care Resource and Referral Agencies; Nyle Robinson at the Illinois Department of Human Services, Bureau of Early Intervention; Nancy Rolock at the Children and Family Research Center at the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign; and Jenny Wittner at Women Employed.
