Acknowledgements

“Illinois Kids Count 2007” was funded by the Annie E. Casey Foundation. We thank them for their support but acknowledge the findings and conclusions presented are those of Voices for Illinois Children alone and do not necessarily reflect the opinions of the foundation.

The Illinois Kids Count project is directed and written by Brenda Baker (bbaker@voices4kids.org) and Julie Parente (jparente@voices4kids.org), Jaime A. Owen and Carla Pazce, graduate student interns from the Harris School of Public Policy at the University of Chicago. Critical input and guidance was provided by Sean Noble and the entire staff of Voices for Illinois Children and the Illinois Kids Count Advisory Committee.

Voices for Illinois Children would like to thank the following people for contributing essays: Terry Carmichael of the Community Behavioral Healthcare Association of Illinois; Anne Clancy of the IFLOSS Coalition; Tina Copeland of the University of Illinois at Chicago Child/Family Development Center; Molly Johnson of Rural Health Inc.; Phil Lawler of PE4Life; Dr. Bennett L. Leventhal of the Center for Child Mental Health & Developmental Neuroscience at the University of Illinois; Jaime Owen of Voices for Illinois Children; Dr. Ed Pont of the Illinois Chapter of the American Academy of Pediatrics; Sharon Schumacher of the National Center for Rural Health Professions at the University of Illinois at Rockford and Dr. Myrtis Sullivan of the Illinois Department of Human Services.

Voices for Illinois Children would like to acknowledge the following people who provided data on the health of Illinois children and without whom this report would not be possible: Stephanie Bess, Jane Fornoff, Rich Forshee, Marilyn Harris, Kay Hunt, David Jinks, Gary Morgan, Darrell Patterson, Helen Schmidt, Jeff Sunderlin, Gail Tanner, Anjana Venkatat and Sangeeta Wadhawan at the Illinois Department of Public Health; Sue Gansky and Adelisa Orantia at Illinois Department of Healthcare and Family Services; Nyle Robinson at Illinois Department of Human Services; Tim Imler, Kathy Joyce, Sharon Neely and Winnie Tuthill at the Illinois State Board of Education; Alice Smith at Illinois Department of Financial and Professional Regulation; Nancy Rolock at the Children and Family Research Center at the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign; Lori Williams of the Illinois Rural Health Association; Idetta Phillips at the Illinois Criminal Justice Information Authority; Bradford C. Peterson at the American Dental Association; and Larry Baade with Medical Marketing Services.

Voices for Illinois Children would like to thank Molly Johnson at Rural Health Association in Alto Pass, Dana Keim at Stephenson County Health Department, Kathy Lemburg at School Health Link in Silvis and Tracy Moore at Skip-A-Long Child Development Services in Moline for providing the photographs that appear throughout this report.
